

Gillian “Youthful One”

At the Gillian Institute, we believe in educating patients, presenting the options, and including our patients in the informed decisions regarding their choice to have surgery. Dr. Short strongly believes that surgery should be “tailored” or personalized for each patient and their specific anatomy and desires. Every patient is unique and Dr. Short strives to care for each patient’s individual needs and concerns. Her dream of creating a surgery center and medical team focused on providing the highest quality plastic surgery care was realized with the opening of the JKS Surgery Center and The Gillian Institute for Plastic, Aesthetic, and Laser Surgery, named after her daughter.

Dr. Short, who began her practice in 1996 on the south side of Indianapolis, credits her outstanding staff and wonderful patients for her success. Not wanting to leave her established patients behind, Dr. Short also opened a new office on Indianapolis’ south side.
